STANDING ORDER

Are you on our GIFT AID list yet?

It is important to gift aid your offering to the church (whether Sunday envelopes or through standing order). This means that the government will top up your offering by 25p for every £1 at no extra cost to you, the giver. You have to be a UK taxpayer to qualify and you have to fill in a declaration form. For more information, please call the office or ask Fr. Gideon.

The Deep End – A cup of water @intercom

Life is busy. Whether we are in school, college, working or juggling family life with all sorts of other commitments, there is sometimes little time to pause and take stock of things. It can be hard to find time to reflect on how our faith is faring. When we do get a minute to assess things, do we find ourselves wanting? Many of us have the idea that we would like to live better lives, to be more caring, to help those in need. We would like to live up to what Jesus asks of us, if only we had time to do more. This desire to do better is important element of our Christian journey. But often we imagine that this will require some sort of grand gesture or dramatic change of direction.

If we are paralysed or overwhelmed by what we can't do. Jesus has some good news for us today. A cup of water isn't much, and offering hospitality to a stranger might not seem like a big deal, but that is where Jesus starts. Instructing his twelve disciples, he tells them that anyone who welcomes them or offers them a cup of cold water will be rewarded. What's more, he adds that anyone who welcome them in fact welcomes Jesus, the one who sent them. Small acts of kindness and hospitality have significance beyond what we might expect. No matter how busy we are, there are opportunities every day to offer a cup of water here, or a helping hand there. All these small things play their part in building up God's kingdom.

MUSINGS: Anyone who welcomes you welcomes me @ Intercom

Welcome is at the heart of today's reading but in 2017 what is a host's obligation to his or her guests? What should the good host do?

Greet guests at the door. We don't have to offer bread and salt to symbolise protection, but a warm handshake, a friendly hug are symbols of welcoming that set stage.

Facilitate conversations. Introduce guests who don't know each other and offer conversations starters: 'Mary, didn't you just go to Tuscany? I think John and Joan are planning a trip next spring'.

Watch over guests and make sure they are enjoying themselves, but if they enjoy themselves too much, be prepared to step in and take them home. Safety trumps everything else. Remind them. Even in the face of a disaster-the grill run out of gas before the stake was even turned- the good host is poised and adapts to the circumstances. Calmness-and sense of humour-radiates and affects everyone else.

Be flexible and gracious. The worst guest faux pas is to arrive with uninvited guests, but the gracious host rolls with the punch and sets an extra place.

Be appreciative. Make sure to say goodnight to each guest and thank them for coming. Doing so sets the stage for the next get-together.

A thought for the Sunday Celebrant?
