STANDING ORDER

It is not always possible to attend Mass in your own parish every week, like when you're on holiday. The most effective way to give is via a standing order from your bank account. All you need to do is fill in our Planned Giving Form, sign it, and return it to the office.

Are you on our GIFT AID list yet?

It is important to gift aid your offering to the church (whether Sunday envelopes or through standing order). This means that the government will top up your offering by 25p for every £1 at no extra cost to you, the giver. You have to be a UK taxpayer to qualify and you have to fill in a declaration form. For more information, please call the office or ask Fr. Gideon.

Fourteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Reflection!!!

The "seventy two others" were among the first evangelists. Jesus told them not to take any personal belongings other than what they were wearing, no money, no bag. Their words, their lives, their passion and their perseverance were the tools for their mission.

Videos, programmes, training, and other props have somehow become essential for evangelization and many other aspects of the Church's mission. No doubt they can be useful, but the busyness involved in creating them tends to obscure the simplicity of Jesus' recipe for evangelization – seventy-two people with faith, passion, a voice and a willingness to persevere. There was no programme, just people who had encountered Christ and were willing to tell the world about him.

Evangelization can seem very difficult in a world which is largely indifferent – and even hostile – to Christ. It is much easier to burrow into our parishes and organizations, safe among people like ourselves, and to hope that is all there is to discipleship. But every follower of Christ is called to go out to others as the seventy-two did, and how to do that in our society can be very perplexing.

The way Jesus appointed and briefed his evangelists provides clues. Firstly, we have to have encountered Christ and be working on continuing that encounter in prayer and in the events of our lives. Secondly, the seventy-two went to local towns and villages and they probably came from many of those places. There is no need to go a long distance – families, workplaces, communities are the priority for evangelization. Thirdly, we need a light grip on possessions and money, so that they are not continually occupying our thoughts and preventing us from recognizing opportunities for evangelization.

We too need to practise prayerful listening and develop an openness to opportunities that might appear. Often those opportunities may not involve speaking about Christ at all, but simply be an opportunity to help another make a good decision, to be a better person, to resolve a difficulty, to forgive, or to deal with sorrow or grief.

There is often a long path towards goodness before the life-changing encounter with Christ happens. The presence of evangelists is needed at every step along that path.
